The Global Chesterton Series CHESTERTON UPSIDE DOWN —THE AUSTRALIAN EXPERIENCE

March 2, 2022 — an online event

G.K. Chesterton liked to say that the way to see the world the right way round is to see it upside down. He had a topsy-turvy imagination, a love for turning things inside out. It is fitting, then, that he should be so popular in Australia—a “down under” place if ever there were one. Chesterton’s novels and short stories have enjoyed widespread acclaim with the Australian reading public.

In this online conversation, Dermot Quinn and Karl Schmude will discuss Chesterton “Down Under.” Why has Chesterton made such an impact on Australia? What lessons should we learn from this for other parts of the world? Who are the leading Chestertonian writers and thinkers in Australia today?

Speakers: Karl Schmude and Dr. Dermot Quinn

THE DEVIL'S ADVOCATE —a dramatic reading A Life in Literature Series Event

March 30, 2022—an in-person event

In a novel set in an ancient hill town in southern Italy after World War II, The Devil's Advocate, Monsignor Blaise Meredith, descends upon an impoverished Calabrian village to investigate the life and death of Giacomo Nerone. Surrounded by rumors of Nerone's heroic virtue, in a wartime atmosphere of corruption and violence, Meredith, faced with physical demons of his own, struggles to separate the political from the religious battles that complicate his search for signs of Sainthood.

The Devil's Advocate A Life in Literature Series Event

with Dr. James McGlone a dramatic reading, followed by commentary by Dr. Dermot Quinn

Wednesday, March 30, 2022, at 7:00 p.m. in Bethany Hall

The cause for Beatification of Giacomo Nerone is complicated by the fact that Nerone was murdered by Communist partisans in the last year of the war. Once the fog of war lifted, miracles were claimed, and an apparently spontaneous cult sprang up among the people. Published in 1959, The Devil's Advocate sold three million copies in two years and was awarded the James Tait Black Memorial Prize.

Adapted by Dr. James McGlone—Commentary by Dr. Dermot Quinn

FOLLOW THE SCIENCE WITH G. K. CHESTERTON AND FATHER STANLEY L. JAKI

March 31, 2022— an online event

A special event presented by the Chesterton Institute in collaboration with Inside the Vatican Magazine. A conversation that looks at two men who thought about science in powerful and penetrating ways. Chesterton, although not a scientist, had important things to say about the natural world and natural theology. According to Father Jaki, he was “a seer of science.”

Father Jaki, himself a brilliant physicist and philosopher, was also an important and insightful thinker about science, religion, and the modern world. The author of over forty books and winner of the Templeton Prize for Religion in 1987, he was among the best-known priest-scientists of the twentieth-century. The conference consists of a set of reflections on the scientific thought of both men followed by a conversation.

Speakers: Dr. Robert Moynihan, Dr. Geir Hasnes and Dr. Dermot Quinn.
